I INTRODUCTION TO THE NEW SEASON

It is with our great pleasure, for the very first time, to welcome you to the EHF European League Men group phase for 2020/21. As you may have seen over the summer, our European club competitions underwent several changes and, as part of that process, they all received a striking new and impressive facelift. The end product saw a new brand for the EHF unveiled, a process which saw competitions rebranded and renamed.

So welcome to the new-look EHF European League, the new name for our second tier competition, and you will certainly agree that the new logo and colour scheme reflects just how dynamic and exciting this competition is in our handball landscape.

The new, orange-coloured logo, for instance, is an abstract version of the letter 'E', rotating around the sides of a pentagon – the shape which, you will notice, is referenced through all of our club competitions. In its appearance, the logo and brand sound symbolise the energy, toughness and intensity that transform from the action on court and the performance of the teams to the visual presentation of the new competition. Words such as 'tough', 'intense' and 'competitive' spring to mind when one thinks of the EHF European League, and those phrases could not be more fitting for this first campaign as we embark on what promises to be a fascinating group phase. What all fans can be looking forward to most over the next 10 rounds of matches is witnessing a real eclectic mix of teams going head-to-head over the coming months as they fight for their places in the all-important knockout stages.

Seventeen nations across the EHF are represented among the 24 competing teams, which gives this season's competition a hugely diverse combination of styles, further proof of what makes this competition so captivating. What lies in wait for handball fans is a mouth-watering series of matches featuring some of the biggest names in our sport with no easy games for any team. Just one look at some of clubs in the group phase is enough to whet the appetite. With the likes Rhein-Neckar Löwen and Füchse Berlin joining former EHF Champions League winners SC Magdeburg and Montpellier, the race to reach the elimination phase is going to be a battle of epic proportions.

We pride ourselves at the EHF and EHF Marketing on our positive and cooperative relationship with our colleagues from the press and media and we are sure that this will continue to develop in the future. Should you require any information, help or assistance during the course of the season, please do not hesitate to get in contact with us at the EHF Office in Vienna, and we will be more than happy to assist you with any questions you might have.

We look forward to working with you during the 2020/21 season!

EHF Media & Communications Team

I WE PLAY HANDBALL: A NEW BRAND IDENTITY

We play handball. It is what we do, and it is the sport we have had in hearts ever since the European Handball Federation was born back in 1991. In the 29 years that have followed we have kept pace with an ever-evolving society that shapes the way we work and see ourselves. One thing we have not changed, however, is our commitment to staying true to the origins of handball. This spirit of an active, social community is a core part of the handball DNA even today. Since the European Handball Federation was founded, we have served each national federation, each club, thousands of players and millions of fans with respect, honesty and transparency.

A fresh approach to logo design

At the heart of the new approach is an updated and fresh representation of how the origins and successes of European handball are communicated, expressed and promoted. Therefore, subtle alterations have been made in the visual presentation of the EHF and its associated competitions with a newly developed design, created to offer consistent communication of the new handball umbrella brand across all European competitions. The shape of a handball itself is referenced throughout the entire EHF brand system. On a national team level, the circular shape of the ball is used to empower all national team competition logos.

The new, orange-coloured logo is an abstract version of the letter 'E', rotating around the sides of a pentagon. It makes reference to the EHF, while the pentagon derives from the shape of a handball's tile and is used in the new EHF brand system to empower the club competitions.

In its appearance, the logo and additional elements that will be used in the EHF European League's imagery symbolise the energy, toughness and intensity that transform from the action on court and the performance of the teams to the visual presentation of the new competition.

New claims, same aims

We do play handball. We always have and always will – but the European Handball Federation does more than that. The new era is an opportunity for the EHF, EHF Marketing, players, fans and officials to not only celebrate what has been achieved so far, but to strengthen core values and beliefs from which the EHF has been built on and make handball an even greater success story. While the new brand identity heralds the start of a new era, our goals remain the same as they have always been: to encourage the public to pick up a ball and join their local club; to promote the highest profile matches on television and across our digital ecosystem; and to motivate fans to experience the spine-tingling atmosphere of a live match inside Europe's biggest handball arenas.

We are all part of the game, so if you are ready, we will let the new era begin...

I BRAND SOUND

As part of a holistic brand experience strategy, sound is an essential brand asset. Together with the sound agency WESOUND, EHF and EHF Marketing developed an acoustic identity for their brands, reflecting and representing the core of handball. Much like the visual brand identity, the brand sound identity will acoustically connect the various leagues and tournaments which fit under the EHF umbrella.

A modern brand sound approach is part of the vision of positioning handball as the most attractive indoor sport and it supports the goal of attracting a younger audience. Through the coherent and consistent use of unique and recognisable sound elements together with the consistent graphical picture conveyed, an improved connection of the competitions and their followers will be achieved.

For the EHF Brand Sound, the authors got to the core of “The Sound of Handball” and created a handball sound DNA as the recurring element across all audio-visual applications. The jump shot was identified as the most iconic and defining handball movement. Through video analysis and motion tracking, the jump shot was extracted into a rhythmic design pattern.

In the case of the EHF European League, the toughness and intensity of the sport was translated into a modern sound design through a new EHF European League sound logo and anthem. Both will come to life in the arena and will consistently complement all audio-visual communications.

I HOME OF HANDBALL

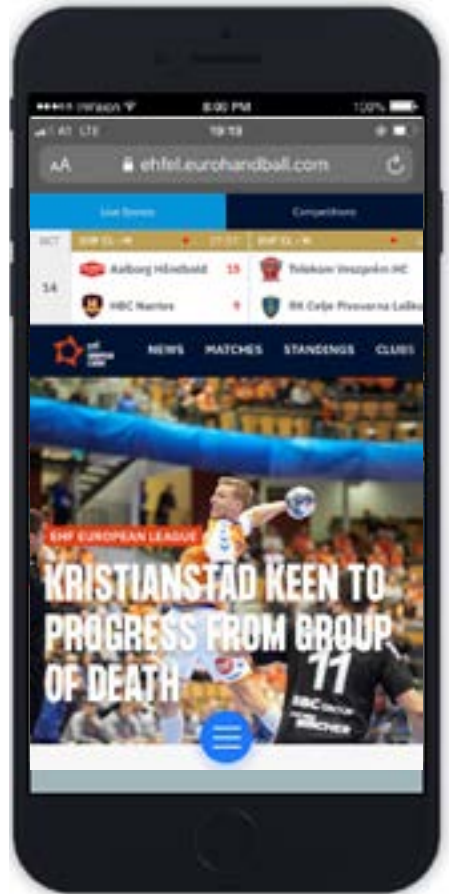

1 July saw the launch of the newly designed Home of Handball website. The European Handball Federation and EHF Marketing in cooperation with Kraftwerk, the number one digital agency in Austria, are excited to introduce a new home and single hub for all fans, friends and the entire family of handball. The old website was calling for an overhaul and needed rejuvenation, both visually and functionally.

In a first step, the decision has been taken to merge the many different web assets onto one and from 1 July, the websites of the EHF Champions League, EHF European League, EHFTV, EHF FINAL4 and EHF Marketing as well as EHF national team competitions are all to be found under one single EHF roof with: eurohandball.com.

One of the main goals was to best represent the EHF's personality, culture and spirit, thus the new corporate identity. A newly-developed brand strategy will be reflected on every page, providing a modern, professional and comprehensive look and feel. Every competition is presented in its very own premium colour pallet, easily distinguishable and featuring elegant new logos. Another one of the key objectives was a 'mobile first' strategy to accommodate mobile users. A team of designers and developers kept this focus throughout the process, ensuring the site will function on all devices.

A key element in functionality is the so-called "Home of Handball-button" on the new website. It is located at the bottom centre of the page ensuring quick navigation to key features such as 'Competitions', 'TV', 'Teams', 'Tickets', 'Home' and 'More'.

Furthermore, to ensure a real-time information stream of ongoing or upcoming handball matches EHF, EHF Marketing and Kraftwerk have developed a Live Ticker located at the very top of the page which allows the handball community to stay on the ball at all times. The Live Ticker provides live match results and follows the user on their entire journey through the new Home of Handball.

I NEW SOCIAL MEDIA SET-UP

To reflect the new digital set-up with the Home of Handball website, the EHF's social media channel structure has been adapted accordingly. Overall, there are three pillars to the EHF's social media presence:

- Top competitions keep their own channels
- 'Home of Handball' approach on website is mirrored
- 'Activities' as the EHF's educational and corporate hub

The EHF European League as the 2nd tier club competition is represented on its own social media channels on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter. In addition, there are the newly created Home of Handball channels, which showcase the best content from all EHF competitions, including the EHF European League. Handball fans worldwide can keep up to date with everything happening in European handball, from club and national team competitions to beach handball, all on one channel. This also includes the video-sharing social network Tik Tok, which is mostly used by a younger audience. For the first time, the EHF European League will be featured on TikTok through the Home of Handball channel.

MORE SAVES, MORE GOALS, MORE HANDBALL

For the new era of European handball and together with digital partner DAZN, a campaign for both EHF European League competitions under the claim MORE HANDBALL was created. The basis of the campaign are the toughness and intensity of handball and the characteristics of the EHF European League. Handball is thrilling and fast-paced, intense, tough and passionate. The EHF European League showcases exactly this.

In addition, fans will be able to keep up with the latest news about the EHF European League on the IQONIQ app, an innovative new fan engagement platform made for sports and entertainment.

I RELAUNCH OF EHFTV

Complementing the launch of the new Home of Handball, EHFTV, the OTT portal of the EHF and EHF Marketing, has been relaunched. The new Brand identity applied to Home of Handball has been followed to create a new look for EHFTV, an OTT service powered by DAZN Group.

EHFTV has established itself over the past decade as a meeting point for all handball fans. The option to watch EHF games for free, live and on-demand, as well as the opportunity to enjoy additional content created for the EHF competitions on a regular basis, has made EHFTV a unique and highly-appreciated OTT service in the sport market. The general approach of EHFTV remains, offering the best handball content for free. This approach is complemented with the option to register to the portal for free. This registration gives the handball fans the option to watch games live and on-demand, but also allows fans to improve and personalise their fan experience during the season – and all of that for free.

On EHFTV, matches from every EHF competition are available, complemented with highlights, the best goals and saves and plenty of additional content created exclusively for the portal. As the new EHFTV has been designed to be fully adaptable to all devices, regardless of whether fans are at home or on the go, the best handball action is accessible any time and from anywhere. Once the fans enter in the re-launched EHFTV, they find an adapted filter menu, an improved navigation through the portal and the option to personalise the favourite competition and/or club directly on their registration account. These new features permit all users to find, select and enjoy the best handball in an easy manner.

Furthermore, the new and state-of-the-art video player, which also includes a multi-screen feature, guarantees the best quality and the perfect conditions to follow the EHF European League, whenever it is played.”

GROUP A PREVIEW

PLOCK AND LEON HEAD COMPETITIVE GROUP A

Four of the six clubs drawn in group A have played in the EHF Champions League within the last two seasons, which should tell you how hard it is for anyone to predict the four teams that will progress.

ORLEN Wisła Płock look like favourites, though not by a big margin. The Polish side, led by Spanish coach Xavier Sabate, features names that could ring a few bells to handball specialists. Bosnian left back Mirsad Terzic played for Veszprém for 11 years, while Michal Daszek and Niko Mindegia do not have much left to prove on the European circuit. However, Plock's anything but ideal preparation may force them to scale down their ambition.

If the theme for group A is Spanish handball, then Abanca Ademar León fit in perfectly. The Spanish side suffered four defeats in as many EHF Cup group phase games last season, but that does not mean they are not a dangerous side. The arrivals of Polish line player Mateusz Piechowski and Champions League-winning goalkeeper Khalifa Ghedbane should reinforce one of the team's weak points last season: defence.

Behind the leading two contenders, we could see four teams fighting to grab the last two Last 16 tickets. Felix Toulouse have not played the former EHF Cup since 2014, but they were a sensation in France last season. And with players like Ayoub Abdi and Luc Steins, they might not stay under the radar for long.

Chekhovskie medvedi have been chasing past glories for a while now. The Russian side took part in the first VELUX EHF FINAL4, back in 2010. 10 years later, they are in the EHF European League group phase, with a young team eager to match their elders' results.

HC Metalurg have also known better days in the past. In 2013 and 2014, the club from North Macedonia reached the Champions League quarter-finals. With the help of Zlatko Horvat, the iconic Croatian right wing, they could recapture some of their former lustre this season.

Fivers, on the other hand, are new to this level of competition, but the Austrian club will try to make the best of their first European opportunity since 2012.

ABANCA ADEMAR LEON

When you sit down to watch ABANCA Ademar Leon this season you can expect fireworks. Fast-tempo handball with some highly technical playmakers and wingers – a real joy to watch. However, it might not be all sunshine and lollypops for Leon this season after letting eight names go during the transfer season. Cadenas will have work cut out to come up with solutions to chinks in their armor as well as attempting to make everything click with the newcomers.

- Manolo Cadenas' third stint at Leon as head coach
- Cadenas brought the club big success back in 2001 when they won the ASOBAL
- An eclectic mix of nationalities with an American, Cape Verdian, Chilian, Portuguese, Serbian, Algerian and Croatians making up the squad
- Leon have two European cup titles also under Cadenas

It's no secret that ABANCA Ademar Leon are a team currently in development. Cadenas stated himself recently that there is a lot of room for improvement especially in defense. Only time will tell if Cadenas can bring his diverse band of brothers together once the EHF European League rolls around. One of the more visible issues from this transitional period is the fact that the club were not able to bolster the right-hand side of the court in pre-season. With the exodus of right back David Fernandez (to Wisla Plock) and winger Mario Lopez (to BM Benidorm / combined 178 goals last season) the club only managed to bring in 19-year-old, Serbian, Milan Gostovic, who is currently the only right back in the squad.

ORLEN WISLA PŁOCK

For two years now, ORLEN Wisła Płock, under the guidance of coach Xavi Sabate, have been implementing a sport development strategy. The 2020/21 season is the third year of this strategy, and the club has been clear that now they are not only in the hunt for domestic titles but are ready for the next step on the international stage as well. And what better stage than the EHF European League for the 'Oilers' to make their mark?

- 10 names leave and Płock welcome eight signings for 2020/21
- Finished runners-up to Kielce in the Polish league for eight seasons in a row
- Also go by the nickname 'Nafciarze,' in Polish meaning the 'Oilers'
- The club has 15 EHF Champions League seasons under its belt

There is a certain freshness about the signings and changes that Sabate has made before this season. Gone are the likes of Zdrahala (37), Igropulo (35) and Sulic (40) and in are Fernandez (24), Komarzewski (21) and Serdio (26). An injection of youth into the dressing room. However, just in case Sabate was worried about the average age of the squad dropping too low and TikTok taking over dressing room proceedings, the Spanish coach did find a balance in signing defensive specialist Mirsad Terzic (37), who he worked with during his time in Veszprém. Jeremy Toto (28) joining from Saint-Raphaël Var Handball and Abel Serdio (26), the Spanish international coming in on loan from Barça, make for an interesting new pairing on the line. The signings do seem like a shift away from the 'old-but-gold' strategy recruitment style in the past. Was this all part of the masterplan? Or is it time for a fresh crack at leaving Kielce's shadow domestically and pushing on for that elusive quarter-final spot in European cup competitions? Whatever the reason, it is a welcome change and will make for interesting watching once the EHF European League group phase gets underway.

CHEKHOVSKIE MEDVEDI

Chekhovskie Medvedi have been an unstoppable force in Russian handball over the past two decades, winning 19 consecutive league titles. However, their ability to compete in Europe has waned over the years and they will compete outside of the EHF Champions League for the first time since 2006.

- The 21-year-old left back Sergey Kosorotov is widely regarded as one of the hottest talents in Russian handball
- Russian international Dmitriy Kiselev returned to Russia last summer, following a short stint at Vardar where he won the EHF Champions League
- A very interesting signing here for Chekhov, managing to bring Artem Kulak, the Belarusian playmaker in from Meshkov Brest

Between 2008 and 2011, Chekhovskie Medvedi were a force to be reckoned with in European handball with two quarter-final appearances bookending a trip to the very first EHF FINAL4 in 2010. One last foray into the last 16 in 2013 was followed by a year without European handball and with that began the exodus of star players with the likes of Timur Dibirov, Daniil Shishkarev and Dmitry Zhitnikov leaving for pastures new.

With that came six straight group phase exits, where the Russian club would always claim some wins but look likely to progress. This season offers them a new challenge in Europe's second tier and a place directly in the group phase. Their opponents are of a similar calibre to those they faced in groups C and D in the EHF Champions League, so although this may be their true level, there is no guarantee they will flourish.

FENIX TOULOUSE HANDBALL

After over a six-year absence from EHF competitions, Fenix Toulouse Handball are back in action! They will fancy their chances too in group A and have their sights firmly locked on the knock-out rounds. Let's continue our countdown to the throw-off of the EHF European League 2020/21.

- Had to work hard in qualification against Romanian side Turda to book a spot
- Since 2015 have been led by World champion and ex-PSG Handball coach Philippe Gardent
- Four new players put pen to paper over the summer; Ferran Sole left
- Right wing Pierrick Chelle is captain of the side

A big loss for Fenix is of course their top scorer from last season, Ferran Sole. With Sole now wearing the colours of Starligue rivals PSG Handball, Edouard Kempf has made his way from Paris to Toulouse to attempt to fill the shoes of the Spaniard. Kempf along with team captain Pierrick Chelle now make up the right-wing pairing. Chelle is clear about what his side wants to achieve this season: "My main motivation is to reach the knock-out stages and to help the club get to the next level. I think group A is really tough with a lot of historic clubs and it's a new experience for us so we'll give it our all to win." Interestingly Chelle sees the first EHF European League trophy going to a French team: "My favourite is Montpellier because the club has experience in winning such competitions. I know German clubs are also very strong but for us the most important thing is to win the first game at home in order to give us some good momentum and maybe after that, everything is possible."

Kempf and Chelle on the wing and the likes Ayoub Abdi at right back will be vital in creating this momentum as they form the threat axis from the right-hand side of the court.

FIVERS

For the first time in 12 years an Austrian side has entered one of handball's top tiers. And with a squad entirely made up for Austrian nationals, they will relish the opportunity to collect vital experience in the all-new EHF European League and build for the future.

- Fivers are the first Austrian side since Bregenz (2008) to play in a top international competition
- The club celebrated their 125-year anniversary last year
- 18 of the players from their squad come from Fivers youth
- Vytautas Ziura said goodbye to the team after 16 years during the summer

It's fair to that Fivers Handball will be going into each and every tie in the European League Group A as the underdogs. However, their upset knock-out of Benfica in qualification will give them great confidence, especially when they host their opponents in the Sporthalle, Margareten. Team manager Thomas Menzl made the club's intentions clear: "It's a great honor and pleasure to play in the EHF European League Group Phase. For our team, that consists of only Austrian players, it will an unforgettable experience. We want to fight for as many points as possible in this very challenging group and make other teams sit up and take notice."

Team captain Markus Koler will be 36 when the European League season throws off and it will be a season to be relished: "Being able to present myself on an international level is my greatest of all motivations and this at my age! Things in life always seem to happen when you least expect them." The Austrian international's experience will be key with him leading a very young side onto the big stage - the large majority of the squad were born between 1996 – 2000. But don't let their age fool you, this side from the fifth district in Vienna packs a punch.

HC METALURG

In a spectacular summer for Macedonian clubs in the transfer market, Metalurg made their fair share of shrews signings as they aim to propel themselves back into contention for European glory.

- Zagreb legend Zlatko Horvat the biggest acquisition of the summer
- Former Vardar coach Zoran Kastratović leading the new-look squad
- Survived two tight qualification rounds, defeating Spacva Vinkovci by three goals and Kriens-Luzern by one
- Managed just three victories in European competition over the last three seasons

Since Vardar burst back onto the European scene in 2013, Metalurg have suffered a slow and steady decline. Five consecutive group phase exits in the EHF Champions League was compounded last season with an early exit from last season's EHF Cup and being demoted to the third best Macedonian team. Zoran Kastratović took over the reins last year and has been able to build a very solid squad, thanks to serious investment in the club. A number of proven international players have been brought in to complement the likes of the talented 20-year-old right back Martin Serafimov, moves which appear to give Metalurg a chance to make a solid if unspectacular run in the European League. Club manager Zorica Blazhevaska echoes that feeling, stating: "My main objective was to stabilise our club and getting it back to the European handball elite. By reaching the group phase it is achieved." Captain Daniel Dupjahanec sees the group phase as an opportunity to help the squad blend. "My primary motivation would be our team to grow match by match. Because playing 10 matches against strong European teams would mean a lot to us in gaining experience and improvement."

GROUP B PREVIEW

GROUP WITH NO OUTSIDERS

Group B is on everyone's lips ahead of the EHF European League Men group phase as Fuchse Berlin, the main contender, were thrown in alongside USAM Nîmes Gard, Dinamo Bucuresti, Tatran Presov, Sporting CP and IFK Kristianstad.

German club Fuchse Berlin, winners of the EHF Cup in 2015 and 2018 and runners-up in 2019, are the main contender in this group and one of the strongest candidates to conquer the EHF European League this year. In addition to the German side, USAM Nîmes Gard, who in recent years have achieved excellent results in France, are also in group B.

Tatran Presov, Slovakian champions since 2006/07, also want to demonstrate their quality in group B and in this new competition. Having been extraordinarily dominant in their own country for so long, Presov want to transfer their domestic success to the EHF European League.

Eight-time Swedish champions IFK Kristianstad have played in the EHF Champions League in the past five seasons, but they have a whole new challenge on their hands in the EHF European League. A very tough team, Ljubomir Vranjes' men aim to re-establish themselves as Sweden's top dogs while also becoming a serious contender in Europe.

Sporting CP and Dinamo Bucuresti complete group B. Sporting and Dinamo will meet in a European club competition for the third consecutive season, after facing each other in the EHF Champions League knockout play-off round in the last two seasons.

USAM NIMES GARD

USAM Nîmes Gard won their last major trophy in the 1990s, so is there an end to this barren run in sight? Well, while it could be somewhat premature to cast them as genuine contenders for the title, the club's current trajectory does put them in the upper echelon of EHF European League Men teams. So, what can we expect from the green of Nîmes?

- The club celebrates their 60th anniversary this season
- They are four-time national champions and three-time French cup winners
- Had a 25-year hiatus from European cup competitions before their EHF Cup run last season
- Their marquee signings include Michaël Guigou in 2019 and Vid Kavtichnik in 2020

2019/20 was going very smoothly for the French side: they were third behind Paris Saint-Germain and Nantes when the Starligue season was halted by the COVID-19 pandemic. On the international front, they were enjoying a solid EHF Cup campaign with two wins, a draw and only a narrow, one-goal loss, to Rhein-Neckar Löwen. You can be certain that the French outfit will be chomping at the bit to get back on the court and attempt to reignite their good domestic and international form. Last season there was one key figure for Nîmes, and his name was on everyone's lips: Elohim Prandi. The 22-year old was understandably snapped up by PSG Handball ahead of this season and his raw talent will be extremely hard to replace at left back. Despite losing their star shooter, team captain and left wing Julien Rebichon is not lacking any confidence in his squad as it is at the moment: "We have a great side, which is able to beat any team; we have vast experience and players with incredible enthusiasm for the game. While we always respect our opponents, we are not afraid of anyone."

CS DINAMO BUCURESTI

Dinamo Bucuresti were delighted with their major breakthrough last season, progressing through the group C/D play-offs to reach the EHF Champions League Last 16. However, their opportunity to take on Europe's heavyweights was cruelly taken away by the COVID-19 pandemic and now they must prepare for a new challenge as they enter the new-look EHF European League at the group phase.

- Invincible in all of their 12 matches in the interrupted 2019/20 EHF Champions League season
- Tunisian right back Amine Bannour scored 111 goals over the last two seasons
- Two summer arrivals from Portugal - Valentin Ghionea (Sporting CP), Rome Hebo (SL Benfica)

Dinamo built a reputation for themselves over the past couple of years as a side well-capable of breaking into Europe's elite, thanks to their dominance at home as well as their well-rounded and somewhat exotic squad, featuring players from Africa, Asia and South America. The core of that squad has remained intact and was bolstered over the summer with some proven quality and exciting potential, all of which points towards a big year for the club.

They will not be considered underdogs at this level and their direct placement into the group phase means they will be well-prepared when the time comes to tackle this bigger and better second tier. You feel that if this club wishes to make a case for inclusion in the top flight next season, they will have to let their handball do the talking and reach the knockout rounds.

TATRAN PRESOV

Domestically, the Slovakian champions are untouchable with 15 national titles. However, on the international stage they have struggled. Could the European League be the perfect platform for their revitalised squad to break this trend?

- Head coach Slavko Goluzha has been in the job since 2017
- The club have had 16 appearances in the EHF Champions League
- Core players Stranovsky, Lapajne, and Urban have left the club
- Players from Brazil, Cuba, Tunisia, Russia, Slovenia & Portugal make up the squad

Head coach Slavko Goluzha has been hard at work researching, scouting and signing talent from abroad ahead of this season - sticking to his diverse locker room strategy of years gone by. Goluzha said goodbye to Slovakian talent and left back Lukas Urban (25) who signed for Chartres after a strong outing in the EHF Champions League last season (35 goals). But Goluzha is far from lacking options with five official left backs. Team captain, Oliver Rabec, Slovenian national team player Nino Grzentic will likely be the main driving force here and young Tomas Recicar will be fighting for court time this season. There have been big changes on the line. Vucko and Djeric have parted ways with the club so Goluzha has only one "official" line player this season in Tunisian Jaballah who signed in the summer. But Russian, Roman Tsarapkin will likely share court time with the Tunisian. The new-look right back position with Anouar Ben Abdallah making his way from Tunisia for his first stint abroad and Brazilian, Guilherme Linhares de Souza, will also need time to gel.

FÜCHSE BERLIN

Füchse Berlin are one of the names you can throw into the “favourites” hat for the EHF European League title. However, in a team scattered with well-known names, there is one name on the beach where people outside of Germany will be scratching their heads, after Bob Hanning & Co. have entrusted the job as head coach to the youngest coach in Bundesliga history.

- The 26-year-old Jaron Siewert took over the role as head coach
- Biggest signing of the summer Lasse Andersson coming in from Barça
- The club recruited Stefan Kretzschmar as Sports Director
- Mandalinic, Heinevetter, Kristopans left Berlin in the summer

Füchse Berlin have undergone a bit of a facelift off the court over the last few months with German legendary winger Stefan Kretzschmar joining the club as Sports Director and then most recently Jaron Siewert (previously of TUSEM Essen) being given the role as head coach. The question of Jaron Siewert age (26) seems to follow him around since it was announced he would take over the wheel.

With players in the squad being up to 13 years his senior (Hans Lindberg), it's difficult to avoid getting dragged into the topic of his age. But it's fair to say this is a very unique situation. Siewert is a 'Fox' through and through, playing for the youth team and even making an EHF Champions League appearance for the club at 19. Bob Hanning (Managing Director) has had his eye on the new head coach for a while now. Stating in several interviews that Siewert showed potential as coach even from a young age. The young trainer, got off to a good – but perhaps slightly nervous - start as he won his first tests internationally in qualification for the European League (25:23 & 36:24 wins over HEDO-B. Braun Gyöngyös) and domestically (31:27 against TSV Hannover-Burgdorf) in the German Bundesliga.

SPORTING CP

Following three seasons competing in the rough and tumble world of groups C and D of the EHF Champions League, Sporting CP should be well-set to deal with the challenges posed in the European League Group Phase.

Rui Silva's men already came through one nervy test in qualification, beating Constanta by a single goal, and now have 10 matches to prove themselves a true contender for the crown.

- Competing in the second tier after three years in the EHF Champions League
- Reached the Last 16 in 2019, losing to Veszprém
- Won the Challenge Cup in 2010 and 2017
- Coach Rui Silva and winger Darko Djukic are their big summer arrivals

Group B was on everyone's lips since the group phase draw. It is a group chocked full of teams with recent EHF Champions League experience coupled with clubs from Europe's top league, in which two teams will be left incredibly disappointed with an early exit. "We know the group phase is going to be tough, because we are going to play with really strong teams, but we are preparing to face anyone. All I know for sure is that the team is looking forward to start the group phase and honour this great club and its supporters," says club captain Frankis Marzo. This kind of tense situation is nothing new to Sporting. In fact, this group feels an awful lot like the old groups C and D of the EHF Champions League, which they progressed from in the last two seasons.

IFK KRISTIANSTAD

Following five straight seasons in the EHF Champions League, IFK Kristianstad have a whole new challenge on their hands in the European League as Ljubomir Vranjes' men aim to re-establish themselves as Sweden's top dogs while becoming a serious contender in Europe.

- World Championship finalist Espen Christensen and former star Markus Olsson among new arrivals
- Lost Valter Chrintz to Berlin shortly before the campaign began
- Defeated Azoty-Pulawy by three goals on aggregate to progress
- First time out of the EHF Champions League in six seasons

Since taking over as coach in early 2019, Ljubomir Vranjes has yet to enjoy much success with the club but with a full season in charge now behind him, we are beginning to see his impact. Kristianstad have enjoyed a perfect start to the season with five wins in the Swedish league and two in European League qualification, the kind of consistency which will be crucial in the toughest group in town. There has been plenty of change in the squad over the summer, including the late move of Valter Chrintz to Berlin, but Vranjes has brought in some serious quality, in the form of Espen Christensen, Emil Frend Öfors and Markus Olsson. Breaking through group B will be a seriously tough task, but few coaches in the competition know the ins and outs of a successful voyage as well as 2014 EHF Champions League winning coach Vranjes.

Captain Olafur Gudmundsson is aware of the challenge ahead but fancies a proper run in Europe. "We always strive to get better and do better than last year and to be able to measure with the top teams of Europe is motivation enough. With a little luck we have a possibility to pass the group phase. We want to go through to the last 16 and develop our game. It will be hard but it is our goal."

GROUP C PREVIEW

FRENCH AND GERMAN HEAVYWEIGHTS READY FOR GROUP C

In a diverse group C of the EHF European League, two former EHF Champions League winners – Montpellier HB and SC Magdeburg – and long-time participants RK Nexe will meet less experienced contenders when it comes to European competition: Besiktas Aygaz, Alingsas HK and HC CSKA. Montpellier and Magdeburg are heavyweights in group C due to their history in EHF competitions. The French powerhouse surprised everyone in 2018 when they lifted the EHF Champions League trophy – but they failed to progress to the Last 16 in 2018/19. Under the helm of Patrice Canayer, who is one of the longest-serving coaches in Europe, Montpellier are eager to show their capability.

Magdeburg have had the taste of success in both the EHF Champions League and the EHF Cup. The German side have not reached their desired goals in recent seasons but with familiar faces they will be a hard nut to crack.

In their 12th consecutive season in Europe's second-tier competition, Nexe will try to keep up with their powerful opponents. Nexe wish to repeat their 2018/19 success, when they reached the EHF Cup quarter-finals, and coach Hrvoje Horvat has gathered young Croatian talents who will have strong support from experienced players.

Alingsas do not have the experience of playing as many group phase matches. Gaining experience and developing young players is the main task in their third group phase appearance at this level. With 2016 EHF Cup winner Niclas Barud as team captain, the Swedish club will try to spoil things for others.

Top Turkish club Besiktas are ready for their second year in the second tier after previous EHF Champions League involvement. Besiktas have been unable to make an impact in Europe so far, but Arin Mufit's team hope that they have found the perfect harmony this season. A special treat for them will be the match against Alingsas, as everyone at the club remembers when they recorded their first Champions League win in 2014.

CSKA are a fresh face in the EHF European League. The newly formed club will play in the group phase for the first time. In qualification round 2, they surprised Bjerringbro-Silkeborg. The key lies in their squad list, which includes former HC Motor goalkeeper Viktor Kireev, Russia international Pavel Atman and Ukraine international Stanislav Zhukov. However, with new coach Vladimir Petkovic, they are only part of the puzzle.

SC MAGDEBURG

SC Magdeburg are always worth turning in to watch. With an attractive brand of handball, coupled with their ability to beat the best teams around one day, then crash and burn against underdogs the next, they are an ideal fit for the revamped and bolstered EHF European League.

- 2002 EHF Champions League winners primed for another assault on Europe's second tier
- Reached the 2017 and 2018 EHF Cup Finals
- Three-time champions of the EHF Cup
- Threadbare squad at the moment due to injuries coupled with five players leaving over the summer and only two arriving

The burning question – do Magdeburg have the killer instinct at this level? Magdeburg have long been considered serious contenders at this level, but have routinely fallen short in recent years. In 2017, they lost the semi-final to EHF Cup Finals hosts and eventual winners Frisch Auf Göppingen, a surprise but not a disaster. The following year was a disaster, however, as they went into the final tournament as hosts and favourites, only to be beaten in the semi-final by Saint-Raphael Var. It would be unfair to call Magdeburg bottlers, seeing as they won the German cup in 2016, but their killer instinct has been lacking in recent seasons. Whether it be the Bundesliga or in Europe, the German club look capable of beating any team on their day but have yet to show up and be counted when titles are on the line. The squad has enough players with medal winning experience to know how its done and the core of the team has remained together under coach Bennet Wiegert for long enough now to expect that something big is on the way.

ALINGSÅS HK

For only the third time in 11 years, Swedish club Alingsås HK have reached the group phase of a European competition and while they are under no illusions about the task at hand, they expect to make the most of their opportunity in the European League.

- sat top of the Swedish league when it came to a premature end last season
- competing in the group phase of Europe's second tier for the first time having lost in qualification rounds three times in recent years
- 2016 EHF Cup winner Niclas Barud is the club captain
- star player Felix Claar left for Aalborg over the summer

Since their second appearance in Europe's top flight in 2014/15, the Swedish club have been regular contenders in their domestic league and consistently entered European competition. However, they have yet to really make an impact, bowing out early in every competition they have played. And it is not for want of trying, as coach Mikael Franzén alludes to the importance of Europe for the club.

"It is a great environment for us as a club to develop players. For us it's a party every time we can reach a place in a European tournament. The audience in Estrad Alingsås loves games against top European clubs." As they were designated as series winners in a shortened Swedish championship, the west coast club will not have to contend with qualification rounds this year and the direct seeding for the group phase offers an opportunity to enjoy some big nights. "We understand that this competition is very tough for us as a club but we are confident that we can beat every team in our group. For us is important to take game after game to maximize our performance," says Franzén.

BESIKTAS AYGAZ

Dominance in Turkey has not translated to success in Europe for Besiktas Aygaz as they often looked a bit out of place in the EHF Champions League. However, a change of approach in the squad appears to suggest long-term building and their seeding to the European League Group Phase allows them opportunity to learn and grow.

- Second consecutive year in the second tier, following five seasons in the EHF Champions League
- In a departure from recent years, all but two of the squad have Turkish nationality
- Müfit Arın, coach since 2004, remains at the helm
- Captain Ramazan Döne enters his 13th European season with the club

When Besiktas made their first breakthrough to the EHF Champions League in 2014, they relied fairly heavily on international players to supplement the inexperienced talent within Turkey. That remained the case throughout their four season stint in the top flight and while they threatened on two occasions to make the breakthrough to the knockout stages, there was no clear sign of progression for the club or national team. The club's change of approach was evident last season as the squad many more young Turkish players. However, they were unable to make an impact in Europe, losing to Sabac in the first round of the EHF Cup on away goals. "This year, our team is structured with young players supported by experienced team mates, aiming to catch a powerful harmony," says team manager and former keeper Mesut Çebi. The young Turkish team will be supported by the likes of Portugal's Hugo Lima, a centre back joining from Rennes, and Latvian Austris Tuminskis.

MONTPELLIER HB

For most of the past decade, the discussion around the EHF Cup's hot favourites has revolved around the German clubs, well that is not the case in the new-look European League with Montpellier in the mix.

Naturally, the restructuring of club competitions has made the second tier much stronger and the inclusion of the 2018 EHF Champions League winners is a clear sign of that.

- Two-time EHF Champions League winners, in 2003 and 2018
- 2018 title was a phenomenal story as they went all the way from groups C and D to the trophy
- Reached the EHF Cup Final in 2014, losing to Szeged
- Beat Skjern in a thrilling qualification round 2 battle

Montpellier are not just here for a good time, they have their eyes on the prize. With a squad featuring Diego Simonet, Melvyn Richardson, Valentin Porte, Hugo Descat and Marin Sego, they could easily be competing in the EHF Champions League and there is no reason to suggest they will not be major contenders in the new European League. Coach Patrice Canayer knows exactly what it takes to win at this level and wants to be there at the business end of the season: "The ultimate objective is to fight to the end to win a new European title." Their qualification victory over Skjern in round 2's headline encounter was a serious test for them and a sign of the long road to come. Montpellier journeyed through a similarly long campaign en route to European glory in 2018. "My biggest motivation is to achieve a full season with my club without interruption and win the European title this season. The EHF European League must be within our reach and we will give ourselves all the means to win this competition this season," claims captain Valentin Porte.

RK NEXE

RK Nexe already battled through one of the toughest qualification matches and look set to make a splash in the EHF European League Group Phase.

- in their 12th consecutive season in Europe's second-tier club competition
- already atoned for last season's early exit, losing to Benfica in round 3
- lost to eventual champions Berlin by a single goal in the 2018/19 quarter-final
- 22-year-old Halil Jaganjac top scored with 11 goals in qualification

While their domestic rivals Zagreb toil away in the EHF Champions League, struggling to get a victory or two every season, RK Nexe have developed a taste for winning in Europe, albeit in the second-tier competition. A regular in the old EHF Cup group phase and coming within a whisker of the final tournament two years ago, everyone in the European League will be aware of the threats posed by the men in green.

SC Magdeburg and Montpellier HB are the heavyweights in group C but coach Hrvoje Horvat is ready to give them an uncomfortable trip to Nasice. "In our little town, no opponent can be sure of winning. We are sure that we give the last atom of strength to win every game."

With some battle-hardened pros and rising stars such as Halil Jaganjac, Nexe already came through the toughest tie in round 2, beating Bidasoa Irun 56:54, and club captain Marko Mrdenović is quietly confident of a good run this season.

"I see us having a chance to go through the group phase, which is tough. With a little bit of luck, we seek the chance to go to the quarter-finals."

HC CSKA

A club that was formed in 1973 to much success, disbanded in 2001 and then reestablished only recently. So, it's a fresh start for this "renewed" club on the European scene and they do not lack confidence.

- the club was renamed HC CSKA in 2019 (previously Spartak)
- new head coach Velimir Petkovic replaced Oleg Kuleshov only one week prior to the group phase's start
- captain Pavel Atman playing now for his 10th club
- Aleksander Dereven suffered a knee injury and will be out for four months

Team captain Pavel Atman stating that his goals are clear and simple: "To win every competition our team is participating in." Atman eyeing up his group as sees "two possible contenders for the title and we will meet them already in the group phase: Montpellier and SC Magdeburg." However, the Russian international is tipping someone else for the title: "the main favourite is, in my opinion, another German team – Rhein-Neckar Löwen," Atman added. It's hard to fully judge the level of this team, they looked convincing in one leg of the qualification and a bit shaky in the next. However, their second half performance against Bjerringbro-Silkeborg in leg one, did show us their upper potential.

Before its reestablishment, the club was a very successful entity on the handball scene. And in the 1987/88 season, the club from the capital of Russia took gold in the European Cup (forerunner to the EHF Champions League) after beating TUSEM Essen in the final only due to more away goals.

GROUP D PREVIEW

WORLD CLASS ON THE COURT AND ON THE BENCHES

If you need proof of the significance of the newly formed EHF European Handball League Men, just look at the names that will duel in group D. If we just talk about players, Stipe Mandalinic, Uwe Gensheimer, Andy Schmid, Morten Olsen, Zsolt Balogh and Zarko Sesum are only the top selection of big names. Among the coaches there are more highly decorated handball people: Four-time EHF Champions League winner Uros Zorman, former Croatia national team coach Zeljko Babic, Martin Schwalb, the only German coach who has won the EHF Champions League Men, and former Celje and Serbia national team coach Vladan Matic.

On paper, international stars such as Uwe Gensheimer, Andre Schmid and Lukas Nilsson should make Löwen favourites in group D, but the qualification round already proved how tough the new competition can be for Martin Schwalb's side. After losing their home match against Danish club Holstebro, they profited from their clear away win. Unfortunately for the Lions, their fabulous Swedish goalkeeper duo of Mikael Appelgren and Andreas Palicka is broken, as Appelgren is out after shoulder surgery.

In terms of EHF Cup titles, Zarko Sesum's tally of three makes him the king of the group. Sesum won the trophy with Löwen in 2013, and he won twice more with Göppingen subsequently. The Serbian left back forms part of a world-class back court axis at Kadetten Schaffhausen alongside Hungarian centre back Gabor Csaszar. The Swiss champions will also profit from new arrival Erik Schmidt, who won the EHF Cup in 2018 with Füchse Berlin. When Kadetten face Eurofam Pelister from the handball-crazy city of Bitola, Schmidt will duel with his former Berlin teammate Stipe Mandalinic, one of the biggest signings in the EHF European League 2020/21 season. Like Mandalinic, his countryman Zeljko Babic, previously coach of Meshkov Brest, is new at Bitola.

Two more big names coming from German Bundesliga should boost GOG: Former Bundesliga top scorer Morten Olsen has arrived from TSV Hannover-Burgdorf and line player Anders Zachariassen has joined from SG Flensburg-Handewitt. After facing Pfadi Winterthur in qualification (33:24 at home/31:35 away), the match at Schaffhausen will already be GOG's second trip to Switzerland this season. With former EHF Champions League star Zsolt Balogh in Tatabanya's squad, coach Vladan Matic hopes to make it to at least the Last 16. Balogh's experience should help guide Tatabanya's many top Hungarian talents. Slovenian side Trimo Trebnje, coached by Uros Zorman, had the longest journey to reach the group phase. Trimo Trebnje beat Belenenses twice in qualification round 1, and their qualification was decided in just one encounter against Balatonfüredi KSE. Gal Cirar's fifth and final goal secured the 23:22 victory and their ticket to the group phase.

GRUNDFOS TATABÁNYA KC

With two quarter-final appearances in the EHF Cup in recent years, Tatabánya have become regulars in the second tier but not much more than that. With proven international class and some of Hungary's top talents, could this be the season the Tigers enjoy a breakthrough season in Europe?

- storied club which enjoyed success in the 70s and 80s
- in recent years have become the perennial bronze medallists in Hungary
- huge turnover in the squad this summer with 12 players leaving and nine coming in
- regularly on the verge of breaking through at this level with two recent EHF Cup Quarter-final appearances

In a domestic scene dominated by Veszprém and Szeged, Grundfos Tatabánya KC have cemented their place as the best of the rest in recent years with five consecutive third place finishes in the Hungarian league. While the two big dogs are busy fighting in the EHF Champions League, Vladan Matic's men have been making a name for themselves in the second tier, reaching the EHF Cup Quarter-finals on two occasions. But reaching the final tournament has eluded them and that is what you feel will properly put them in the spotlight.

Achieving that this season appears difficult as an incredible 12 players left the club over the summer, including perennial top scorer Milos Vujovic to Berlin, while nine players were brought in. Mixed fortunes in early league games suggests the squad is still gelling and it is still too early to know whether they can finally make the leap to become true contenders at this level.

KADETTEN SCHAFFHAUSEN

It has been a while since Kadetten have looked at home on the international stage. However, with an interesting change on the bench and perhaps an update in philosophy, could this be all about to change?

- Icelander Adalsteinn Eyjolfsson is the new head coach
- side is captained by Swiss international Dimitrij Küttel
- only two new signings this season in Eric Schmidt and Marian Teubert

Kadetten have a new man on the bench this season: 42-year-old Icelander Adalsteinn Eyjolfsson, who took over from Petr Hrachovec in July of this year. The Icelander makes his way to Kadetten from German Bundesliga side HC Erlangen after much success. Working in Germany for the past 12 years, Eyjolfsson has built a bit of a name for himself taking clubs like ThSV Eisenach to the Bundesliga or going all the way from the third division with TV Hüttenberg to the Bundesliga.

Most recently, he gave HC Erlangen their best ever finish in the Bundesliga, when they managed a ranking of ninth in the 2018/19 season. Kadetten fans are now surely excited to see if Eyjolfsson can take the Swiss side to new heights in European League group D and beyond. The Icelander made very few changes to his squad over the summer months, but maybe some stability is just what they need after being drawn into a tough European League group.

HC EUROFARM PELISTER

These are exciting times for Macedonian handball and HC Eurofarm Pelister as they venture into the territory of the European League. With a big name joining the team in the summer and a new, very experienced coach on the bench, they will be looking to make some noise this season.

- RK Eurofarm Pelister is the new name of RK Eurofarm Rabotnik after a 2019 joint ownership agreement with RK Pelister
- Former Croatian national team coach Zeljko Babic took on the job before this season
- Made seven signings over the summer, including fellow Croatian Stipe Mandalinic
- They have six Macedonian league titles; joint second most with Metalurg
- Their arena is named in honour of the late Boro Churlevski, a former player from Bitola

HC Eurofarm Pelister’s pre-season has been very impressive. The Macedonian side played 12 friendly matches and won 11 of them, even beating Vardar twice along the way. Head coach Zeljko Babic had clear plans in pre-season: “Our target during the summer was to sign younger players with a lot of energy. We have a great team this year, but my best ‘players’ are work, discipline and team spirit.” With the retirement of Petrovski along with Kuzmanoski and the departure of old-heads like Mitrevski (FC Porto) and Ostroushko (Al-Sharaf), an injection of youth was needed. Babic didn’t waste any time over the summer months signing seven new names. Stipe Mandalinic (28) was their biggest transfer news when the club signed the Croatian international after he was released by Fuchse Berlin amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

RHEIN-NECKAR LÖWEN

Anything short of a semi-final would be a failure for one of the hot favourites for the EHF European League title this season. Rhein-Neckar Löwen have a new, charismatic face on the beach and brought in some changes to their squad in their quest for domestic and international silverware. The start of the season won't come without its own issues though with three big names being sidelined and finding themselves into a tough group D.

- Martin Schwalb took over the hot seat in summer
- Three new names and one familiar (Baena) have signed with Löwen
- Appelgren, Kohlbacher, Nielsen will sit out start of season with injuries
- 40-year-old Petersson's last season in handball

The core (quite literally) of the Löwen will miss the start of the season and maybe up until the new year. Their star goalkeeper Mikael Appelgren injured his left shoulder in training and will be out until at least the beginning of 2021. But luckily, Löwen can still count on yet another world class Swedish goalkeeper in Andreas Palicka. On the line, they have to do without the in-form line player Jannik Kohlbacher. The German international injured his elbow during a game back in September and this absence will be a huge gap to fill in both attack and defense. He will for sure miss the start of the European League. With further issues on the line, i.e. Jesper Nielsen being out until the start of 2021, meant that Martin Schwalb needed to act quickly. The 23-year-old Ymir Gislason will now share the workload on the line with Rafael Baena (37) who has (re)signed with the Mannheim club.

GOG

Here is a team you will want to tune in to EHFTV and see every time they step on the court in the European League group phase. GOG are back in the second tier after their brief but exciting stint in the EHF Champions League and are certain to shake things up with their rising stars mixed with a couple of world champions.

- finished= third in group D of the EHF Champions League last season
- picked up two 2019 world champions, Morten Olsen and Anders Zachariassen, this summer
- renowned for producing a consistent flow of bright young talent
- defeated Pfadi Winterthur 64:59 in qualification to reach group D

GOG flew out of the blocks on their return to the EHF Champions League last season, winning four of their first five matches and scoring goals for fun. The fun soon ended, however, as they suffered a collapse in the second half of the group phase and just missed out on the knockout rounds.

The squad will have learned their harsh lesson from last season as they embark on this new adventure at a level which is reminiscent of their group last season but with a wider picture which allows them the opportunity to make a bigger impact. Although the majority of the squad is incredibly young, there are enough experienced heads in the dressing room, most notably the summer signing of world champions Anders Zachariassen from Flensburg and Morten Olsen from Hannover. Their proven excellence and know-how combined with GOG's exciting talent should make them a handful for any opponent and capable of putting together a run of victories.

RK TRIMO TREBNJE

10 years on from their last EHF Cup qualification attempt, RK Trimo Trebnje make it the European League 2020/21. With a real winner on the bench as head coach, the young Slovenian side will cherish collecting experience against some of top-drawer sides.

- Slovenian legend and 4x CL champion Uros Zorman is the head coach
- Their biggest signing this season was Darko Cingesar
- The club are yet to win a title domestically or internationally
- Drawn into the rock-hard group D along with Rhein-Neckar Löwen

“It’s a big motivation to play against the teams, which we could only watch on TV up until this point.” stated team captain Uros Udovic ahead his club’s first outing in the European League. “We respect all of them but we won’t give up without a fight. Our strategy is that we will be focused on ourselves and try to represent our town and country as best as possible.” Udovic continued.

Each and every game for Trebnje this season in the EHF European League looks like a very tall task. And it will be Zorman’s task to make sure his side around grounded and not like standing in awe of these ‘TV stars’. Bringing in the likes of Potocnik and Cinesar will give the side great experience and confidence. Dino Hamidovic, who strengthened the side the beginning of the 2019/20 season, has played 29 matches for RK Trimo Trebnje so far and recorded 148 goals. The Bosnia and Herzegovina international will make for a strong rotation with Potocnik at left back. Gal Cirar will be looking to keep up the good form he showed in qualification, the right-wing netting 15 over the three games.

I IMPORTANT REGULATIONS

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN TWO OR MORE TEAMS HAVE THE SAME NUMBER OF POINTS

All matches shall be played in accordance with the IHF's current Rules of the Game. Variations on a technical level are possible. All matches of the EHF European League shall be played in 2 x 30 minutes with a half-time break of 15 minutes.

The matches shall be scored as follows:

- a) win = 2 points
- b) draw = 1 point
- c) loss = 0 points

Teams' rankings are obtained by adding up the number of points won.

GROUP PHASE

If two or more teams have scored the same number of points, the ranking will be determined as follows:

During the matches of the group:

- a) higher goal difference in all matches;
- b) greater number of plus goals in all matches;

After completion of the group if two teams have scored the same number of points:

- a) number of points in matches of the two teams directly involved;
- b) goal difference in matches of the two teams directly involved;
- c) higher number of goals scored in the away match of the two teams directly involved;
- d) goal difference in all matches of the group;
- e) higher number of plus goals in all matches of the group;

After completion of the group if three or more teams have scored the same number of points:

- a) number of points in matches of all teams directly involved;
- b) goal difference in matches of all teams directly involved;
- c) higher number of plus goals in matches of all teams directly involved;
- d) goal difference in all matches of the group;
- e) higher number of plus goals in all matches of the group;
- f) higher ranking in the group phase matches
- g) greater number of points in the group phase

* If the ranking of one of these teams is determined, the criteria are consecutively followed until the ranking of all teams is determined.

* If no ranking can be determined, a decision shall be obtained by drawing lots. Lots shall be drawn by the EHF, if possible in the presence of team managers.

LAST 16 AND QUARTER-FINAL MATCHES

If, after completion of the two matches, both teams have won the same number of points (no extra-time will be played), the teams' standings shall be determined by the following criteria:

- a) goal difference
- b) greater number of plus goals scored in away match
- c) penalty throws

RULES FOR EXECUTION OF PENALTY THROWS

- Prior to penalty throwing, each team shall name five players eligible to play at the end of the match by handing the referees a list of numbers. These players shall then take one throw each until a decision (a winner) is reached, alternating with their opponents. Each team is free to determine the sequence in which throwers will take their throws

- The goalkeepers may be freely selected from the match report and exchanged in accordance with the Rules of the game. Goalkeepers may take throws and throwers may play as goalkeepers.

- The referees shall choose the goal at which throws are taken. The team taking the first penalty throw shall be determined by the referees by drawing lots. The team winning the draw may choose whether it wishes to throw first or last.

- If scores are equal after the first round of penalty throwing, it shall be continued until a decision is reached. In the second round, the other team shall start. Again five players shall be named who are eligible to play (the players named before may be named once again).

- In the second round, a decision (a winner) is reached when a goal difference arises after both teams have taken one throw each.

- Eligible players are players entered in the match report who have not been disqualified or suspended at the time of the final whistle.

- Serious infractions committed during penalty throwing shall be sanctioned by disqualification. If a thrower is disqualified or suffers an injury, an eligible substitute player shall be named supplementary.

- While the throws are being taken, only the player taking the throw, the current goalkeeper and the referees may enter the respective half of the playing area.

- If the number of eligible players falls below five, players may be named to take a second throw in the same round.
